Alachua County Medical Society

Established in the late 1800s, the Alachua County Medical Society (ACMS) is a professional and scientific organization representing more than 600 practicing and retired physicians, medical residents and medical school students in Alachua, Levy, Dixie and Gilchrist counties. The Society is the local affiliate of the Florida and American Medical Associations.

Membership in the ACMS is voluntary; physicians are not required to join in order to practice medicine in our area. Those who choose to join, however, do so because they are interested in the same goals as other members of the Society – quality medical care for every resident in the ACMS area and advocacy of the medical profession. The ACMS provides physicians:

- We Care Physician Volunteer Network
- Professional Development Opportunities
- Practice Management Network
- Public Referral Service
- Legislative Representation
- Community Representation
- Continuing Medical Education
- Specialty Medical Education
- Networking Opportunities
- Educational Dinner Meetings
- House Calls magazine

This program, initiated by the ACMS, has been the model for programs in other societies throughout the state and is done in conjunction with the Alachua County Health Department and the Alachua County Board of County Commissioners.

Mini-Internship Program

Begun in 1983 by the ACMS and the Chamber of Commerce Leadership Gainesville Program, the mini-internship offers community leaders the opportunity to share a day in the life of a physician and has been adopted and endorsed by the Florida Medical Association. The Mini-Internship Program has been highly successful in opening the lines of communication between physicians and the community at large.

THE AMERICAN BOARD OF MEDICAL SPECIALTIES®

The American Board of Medical Specialties (ABMS) is an organization of approved medical specialty boards. The mission of the ABMS is to maintain and improve the quality of medical care by assisting the Member Boards in their efforts to develop and utilize professional and educational standards for the evaluation and certification of physician specialists. The intent of the certification of physicians is to provide assurance to the public that a physician specialist certified by a Member Board of the ABMS has successfully completed an approved educational program and evaluation process which includes an examination designed to assess the knowledge, skills, and experience required to provide quality patient care in that specialty.

ROBB HOUSE MEDICAL MUSEUM

This Victorian cottage built in 1878 became the home and medical office of doctors Sarah Lucretia and Robert Robb. Sarah Lucretia was the first woman physician in Alachua County. She practiced medicine from 1884 to 1917.

The Robb House, which houses the offices of the ACMS, was once owned by one of the first husband and wife physician teams in Florida, Robert and Lucretia Robb. In 1981, it was purchased by the ACMS, restored and furnished with much of the original furniture and medical equipment used by the Robbs.

The house contains the first officially recognized medical museum in the State of Florida. The collection includes medical equipment and memorabilia from Florida physicians and hospitals. The museum is visited by school groups, historic societies, juvenile correction groups, medical students and residents. It is listed in the national Medical Museums Association directory.

Contact the ACMS to make a donation for the ongoing restoration of this community asset today.

We Care Physician Referral Network

Contact Person: Tony Campo, (352) 334-7926

The We Care Physician Referral Network is a community-based initiative that coordinates volunteer physicians, dentists, hospitals, and ancillary providers to meet the medical and dental needs of uninsured and poor Alachua County residents. It is a partnership of public and private institutions, agencies, and individuals that responds to the health care needs of the community's under-served population. A health care board provides guidance to the program in response to community health issues and evaluates the efficacy of the agency's programs. The initiative started over twenty-five years ago in response to an overwhelming need for medical services for low income, uninsured residents of Alachua County.

In the 1980s, a hot topic across America was health care for the poor. Uninsured residents did not have access to primary medical services and often postponed care based on financial circumstances. Hospital emergency rooms were over-crowded with urgent health care needs and were inappropriately utilized for non-emergent medical services. A position paper was prepared and presented by Dr. Thomas Hawkins to the Alachua County Medical Society in 1984. It addressed the needs of the poor and uninsured and proposed an informal network of volunteer physicians that became the We Care Physician Referral Network. The program was staffed by Alachua County Medical Society staff and assisted 60 to 80 patients each year. A 1988 Alachua County needs assessment indicated that over 20% of the community's residents lacked health insurance and that the incidence of chronic health conditions and mortality was above the State average. The cost to human life expectancy and quality of life was enormous. The community responded by bringing together a coalition of public and private interests and formed the Alachua County Health Care Board.

The twenty-one member Health Care Board was structured to include public institutions, private sector interests, civic organizations, and low income consumers. Membership included one representative from each of the following: the Alachua County Health Department, Shands Teaching Hospital, University of Florida Faculty Group Practice, Alachua General Hospital, local nursing and pharmacy organizations, the Alachua County Medical Society, North Florida Regional Hospital, the Alachua County Dental Association, and a non-voting representative from the Alachua County Department of Social Services. The Board had at least three healthcare professionals, one attorney, representatives from at least three civic organizations, and three healthcare consumers. In 1990 the Board recommended the formal implementation of the We Care Physician Referral Network. The Network would provide necessary specialty medical services to low income, uninsured residents referred by the Alachua County Health Department, by primary care physicians in private practice, and by other primary care sites in the community. The Alachua County Health Care Board is a Commission-appointed entity with strict by-laws for membership and function. The Board continues to meet regularly and provide guidance and oversight to the We Care program in response to community health care needs.

The We Care program needed the structure of a government institution as well as the flexibility of a community-based social services agency. A program coordinator was hired and guidelines, policies, and eligibility criteria were formulated. The Alachua County Medical Society sponsored the program and provided operational and technical support. The Alachua County Board of County Commissioners allocated funding for one staff member and administrative support. Cooperative agreements were formed with government institutions and private enterprises. During the inaugural year (1990) of the formal program, the Alachua County Medical Society cultivated support among its membership, the three local hospitals pledged their support, and the value of volunteer physician and hospital care exceeded $400,000.

The We Care Physician Referral Network model was so successful that physicians and staff from the Alachua County Medical Society took the program on the road (1991-93). They met with medical societies throughout Florida and provided technical assistance to them as they developed their own program. Over the next five years, volunteer medical programs were established across the State of Florida, from the panhandle eastward to the Atlantic coast, south to the tip of the peninsula, and around the gulf coast. The programs that arose were not cookie-cutter copies of the Alachua County We Care model. Instead, communities were encouraged to formulate programs based on the needs of the local community. The Florida Medical Association recognized the Alachua County Medical Society's We Care Physician Referral Network as an innovative and effective model. The program received recognition from the State Department of Health and the We Care director provided training and technical assistance to many other communities.

By the end of 1994, Alachua County physicians and hospitals had provided nearly 5 million dollars in free health care to hundreds of uninsured residents via the We Care program.

In response to a growing need for dental care, an oral health component of the We Care program was considered. The anecdotal evidence was frightening and clear. Oral health was not a high priority for residents with incomes below federal poverty levels. Adults with low incomes rarely received preventive dental care and often sought care only when in pain. Poor oral dentition affected overall health, impacted work performance, and needed to be addressed. In 1993, Project Dentists Care was established in cooperation with the Alachua County Dental Association and during its first year of operation provided nearly $50,000 in free dental services to the uninsured and needy. When demand for volunteer dental services exceeded the resources of volunteer dentists in private practice, Santa Fe College, a local educational institution with a dental hygiene program, offered to assist the program. This new collaboration resulted in the expansion of services. Participants received pre-treatment evaluations, cleanings, x-rays, and treatment plans as well as post-treatment maintenance. A brand new clinic-based initiative was also developed at Santa Fe College, in cooperation with the University of Florida College of Dentistry and the Alachua County Dental Association. The We Care Oral Health Component has provided over $1.7 million in volunteer dental care since its inception in January 1993.

The Alachua County Medical Society's We Care Physician Referral Network is a work-in-progress; a dynamic collaboration of private and public enterprise. It is comprised of three components, Primary Care, Oral Health, and Specialty Care. It is supported by physicians, dentists, local hospitals, laboratories, home health agencies, mental health professionals, and a variety of ancillary service providers. Since 1990 the program has received over 25,000 requests for volunteer medical and dental care. More than half of those requests were met by volunteer professionals. The cumulative total of volunteer medical and dental services provided exceeds $85,000,000.00 (value to December '16).

Programs based on the Alachua County We Care model provide volunteer services throughout Florida. A 2015/16 Department of Health report on statewide volunteerism documented over 298 million dollars in volunteer medical and dental care. The We Care model represents the best efforts of volunteer professionals, social services agencies, State and local governments, collaborating to provide for the less fortunate in a dignified and effective manner.

Gail was told there was no hope for her failing heart.

At UF Health, she found a problem-solver who was up to the challenge.

Dr. Thomas Beaver and Dr. Juan Aranda knew that Gail's heart was weak and she wasn't a candidate for a transplant. While others offered no hope, they devised a solution. Dr. Beaver gave Gail an LVAD, a device that helps a weakened heart regain function and gives patients something priceless: time. That's the kind of problem-solving care that moves medicine forward.
